Table of Prepositions

Remember :

Prepositions which imply "motion towards" something usually take the Accusative.

Prepositions which imply "motion away from" something usually take the Genitive.

Prepositions which imply "something at rest" usually take the Dative.

The most frequently used Prepositions are shown in bold face and should be learned.

Prepositions are often used to make compound verbs, when their meaning may change slightly.

Prepositions generally have a wide range of meanings - one must be flexible when translating them. They also occur in idiomatic phrases, in which case it is best to learn the idiom rather than to use a wooden literal translation. The meanings given below are a summary of the main ways of translating each preposition.
